© 2006-2007 Conestogan Yearbook, Elizabethtown College

Elizabethtown College

Dear Friends,

As you sift through the many memories of the 2006-07 academic year contained here, I think of them also as important milestones on your life's journey. For seniors especially, this Conestogan marks the conclusion of a formative period of learning that launches you toward lives of leadership and service. For all of us, it marks the completion of another season of progress toward academic and personal goals.

The last academic year included a number of memorable experiences. The spectacular achievements of our fall athletic teams gave us all excitement and pride, and our music and theatre ensembles enjoyed a year of grand performances, including the Concert Choir tour of Hawaii, and the great run of the musical "Hair." More student scholars than ever presented research papers at professional meetings, and SIFE won its regional competition for the 18th consecutive year. Several student groups made service trips to the gulf and other regions to assist others in need, in addition to all they do in our own area. Even through our deep sadness at the death of Katelyn John and the devastating shootings at Virginia Tech, students, faculty and staff pulled together and demonstrated once more the impressive character of this college community.

Beyond this year alone, members of the Class of 2007 have witnessed some important milestones in the college's development over the past four years. They were the first to enter under the new core curriculum and to experience the 4-credit course system. New majors in theatre, criminal justice, actuarial science, and Japanese were established, we awarded the first Master's degrees in the college's history, and international study became a normal part of an E-town education. Enrollment has grown to almost 2000 full-time students, and a large cadre of new faculty has joined the college. The Hoover Center for Business was dedicated and the Masters Center for Science, Mathematics and engineering is well on the way to completion. Just like those seniors, the college is different than four years ago, and better too.

As you recall the memories of 2006-07 and of the past four years, I hope you will not just leave them in the past as something to be remembered, but also use them as reminders of what is so significant about your education here and what it means for your life tomorrow. For it is here that you nurture high aspirations and great achievements. It is here that you learn the heritage of the ages and cutting edge knowledge for tomorrow. It is here that you build relationships that will shape your life for years to come. And it is here that you learn to lead and to serve wherever life takes you. If you are returning next year, use these reminders to make next year your most productive yet. If you now leave the college for the next stage of life, carry that heritage of Elizabethtown with you in all that you do to show the rest of the world the magic of these precious memories.

With All Good Wishes,

Theodore E. Long

Professor Spotlight

Dr. Jane E. Cavender
Professor, Biology

What was your greatest experience while attending college, and how do you relate it to your career at Elizabethtown?

In all honesty I did not have a great college experience. For many of my courses I was one of 300+ students and my professors would have never known if I was in class or not! However, when I was a junior I began to conduct independent research with a wonderful scientist in the Biology department. This was a turning point in my education and probably the best thing that had ever happened to me. I first came to E-town in a temporary position to obtain teaching experience. I immediately fell in love with the students, my department and the overall atmosphere at the college.

What has been your most memorable moment as a professor?

Wow, a favorite moment...The funniest is when I tripped off the stage in Gible Auditorium...Most proud is every time one of my students is accepted into graduate/medical school, or lands that "perfect job". I think I have now favorite moment everyday.

What motivates you as a professional? Any challenging projects?

My research...I am always excited to do the "next" experiment, whether it is a joint project with my students or my own personal project. The potential for discovery is exhilarating for me. My current challenge is trying to find the cause for viral oncogenesis (how viral proteins cause tumors).

What do you perceive as the greatest benefit of Elizabethtown's commitment to a relationship-centered education?

I think that the greatest benefit is that I can try to reach each student and help them to unlock their learning potentials for their life-long education. In a larger or more impersonal environment this would not be viewed as a welcome goal. But at Elizabethtown, we embrace and reward this approach to learning.

What interested you in your field of study?

Answering that question would involve telling the whole story of my life. I'll just say that I am deeply drawn to the religions and philosophies of India, and that this is what I would have studied in my spare time even if I had gone into a more mundane career. I've had the good fortune of being able to make a career out of reading, writing, and talking about the topics I love the most. My personal spiritual and intellectual journeys are able to extend into my professional life, which makes work much more fulfilling.

Who inspires you and why?

My wife, because she works so hard, and because she also understands me very well. Also my mother and grandmother. Basically, the women in my life. As far as famous people go, my biggest inspirations have been Gory Harrison, Mahatma Gandhi, and J.R.R. Tolkien. Gory Harrison is my role model as a Westerner who converted to Hinduism. Mahatma Gandhi, because his vision of how we should all get along and his willingness to give his life for it are models for us all. Tolkien for his seemingly infinite creativity, which I hope to emulate. I'm also inspired by great songwriters: Bob Dylan, Neil Young, Lennon and McCartney, Roger Waters, and so on.

What do you perceive as the greatest benefit of Elizabethtown's commitment to a relationship-centered education?

In the traditions I study and the one I practice, the relationship between the living teacher, the guru, and the student is absolutely essential. One cannot achieve enlightenment except by receiving the teaching from an enlightened being. So the relationship is where the "magic" happens, where the direct experience of the teacher can be passed on to the student, rather than mere information. Information is important. But in the words of Frank Zappa, information is not knowledge, and knowledge is not wisdom. Knowledge and wisdom can only be transmitted through a direct relationship.

If you could choose any other occupation, what would it be and why?

I would like to write fiction; but I still intend to do that while being a professor. Had I had the talent and applied myself to music, I would like to have been in a rock band. Why? The same reasons I enjoy teaching and writing: self-expression, communicating my experiences and perceptions to others in a compelling way, as others have done for me.

Winter Wonderland

Students swore it would never happen, but the child inside all of us always wished it would. On Wednesday, February 14, 2007, Elizabethtown College students and faculty awoke to an unexpected but much appreciated Valentine in their e-mail's inbox. The icy roads and continued accumulation of snow could not be ignored. E-town was having a snow day!

The sentiment of a snow day takes you back to the simpler days of childhood when you could go play in the snow for hours, watch cartoons and drink hot cocoa; the college version is not that much different. Some students slept in and just enjoyed doing nothing to the fullest. Others "borrowed" trays from the Marketplace and could be seen bundled up making their way to a snowy hill to go sledding. Some staged snow ball fights in the Dell or make snow angels outside their dorms.

It's a day that definitely will be remembered by all, partly because most believed a snow day was something that would never happen on this campus but mostly because of the good times that were had while the snow fell on Valentine's Day.

Funky Odors

It was a Wednesday...April 19th, 2007. For E-town students that had 8 a.m.'s that day, it was a tough break because they were already awake and at class. Fortunately for those students with 9:30 a.m. classes or later that were just rolling out of bed, a surprise awaited them. Students were informed that six of the academic buildings on campus were closed due to a strong odor.

At approximately 8:45 a.m. at the construction site for the upcoming Masters Center for Science, Mathematics and Engineering a natural gas line was struck releasing a plume of into the air, and ventilation systems around campus. As a safety precaution Esbenshade, Musser and Hoover were immediately evacuated and closed. Shortly before 11 a.m. Steinman, Nicarry, and Zug were also evacuated and closed because of the fumes. All classes during the day had been cancelled before the gas main was capped around noon. It was a chaotic day full of endless Campus News updates and fire alarms, but most students simply relaxed and took it as the Dell Day students never received.

Final "Hours"

There comes a time in every college Senior's life when they become anxious, excited, saddened and nervous about graduation; consequently, it leads upperclassmen to convene at a local bar and do the one thing they know how to do: drink. This year, the Senior Class sponsored a night to celebrate 2007 hours until graduation (which has become a tradition here at the College). The event took place in Mt. Joy at Carlos and Charlies. Karaoke, cheap drinks, and great friends were among the entertainment.

The infamous big yellow school bus, the transportation of choice to haul students around, re-entered the lives of Elizabethtown College Seniors by picking them up at the College and taking them to the bar. The night was especially enjoyable because it allowed everyone to get together and reminisce. In essence, all enter as first-year not sure what to expect, but as graduates prepare to leave and move into the real world, it is nice to set aside time to relish in the last days of college.

Bittersweet Endings

“What lies behind us and what lies before us are small matters compared to what lies within us.”

—Ralph Waldo Emerson

☞ Katy Vogel and several others had an early selection at the entrée prior to many students arriving.

☞ A handful of guys put final touches on their freshly cooked meals before taking their seats in the Event Space.

☞ Lisa Gimbert watched as Matt Witkovsky and Jenna Heimbaugh tried to beat each others' bowling score.

☞ Faisal Jawad attempted to slowly tap the golf ball into the hole as friends watched doubtfully.

SENIOR WEEK

Roastin' and Rollin'

Elizabethtown College's Senior Week 2007 kicked off in grand style on Wednesday evening, May 16th with the Alumni Association Senior Pig Roast. An annual Senior Week tradition, the Senior Pig Roast featured a feast of roasted pig and sliced pit beef grilled and smoked to perfection by Hess's Barbecue Caterers of Lancaster. Hundreds of members of the Class of 2007, along with members of the Office of Alumni Relations and the Elizabethtown College Alumni Association Council shared good times and great food in Brossman Commons' concourse and also Event Space.

The weather certainly didn't disappoint for the second day of Senior Week with sun-soaked skies and perfect springtime weather in the mid-70s.

Members of the Class of 2007 started their day with 'Starbucks & Memories' at the Raffensperger Alumni House—an event designed to feature the Senior Class Slide Show as well as provide freshly baked French pastries, fresh fruit, gourmet teas and Starbucks coffee to attendees.

☞ Bob Pyrz laughed as he slammed into Joe Swartz who subsequently hit neighboring drivers.

SENIOR WEEK

Reflections

In addition to the food and fun at the 'Starbucks & Memories' event, Seniors picked up their tickets for the afternoon's events at Adventure Sports in Hershey, Clearview Lanes and MoviE-town Theater. Good times were had by all as the Class of 2007 closed out the day's events with the President's Picnic and Senior Class champagne toast at the Alumni House.

The final day of Senior Week began with 'The Morning After' breakfast in Thompson Gymnasium. Soon to be graduates were treated to breakfast just before they began practice for their Commencement ceremony in the gym.

Following a rousing time where formations for both outdoor and indoor graduation were practiced, Senior Week continued with the all-campus picnic and Senior's Choice Awards in the Marketplace. The Class of 2007 and members of the campus were treated to tasty picnic fare along with live 'gypsy jazz' music played by Bruce Campbell '76 and the Gadjo Playboys band.

Official Senior Week activities concluded Friday evening, May 18th with the traditional Baccalaureate Service and 'Reflections by the Lake' extravaganza at the Leffler Chapel & Performance Center and Lake Placida.

Friends watched and reflected on a slideshow shown in the Raffensperger Alumni House, which was created by Senior Class President Corey Thomas.

Chad Strauss signed in and collected his tickets for Senior Week events.

Carrie Houtz debated on what looked appetizing as her classmates dug into the wide variety of food.

Ron Harkness, Adrienne Pritchard, Lauren Tucker, John Killion, and Amanda Brunish took a moment to smile, or at least tried, for the photographer.

Students and parents enjoyed food and beverages from one of the many tents setup for Reflections by the Lake.

Rev. Tracy Wenger Sadd smiled and greeted the audience when the ceremony began on that Friday evening.

Carrie Houtz and John Barborek sang "The Prayer" as Kevin Hahn accompanied them on the piano.

After the 'Passing on of the Flame' by the Officers of the 2007 and 2008 classes, faculty and staff aided in lighting every candle held in Leffler's audience.

SENIOR WEEK

Baccalaureate

Over 1000 people attended the 2007 Baccalaureate Service focused on the theme of "Blessings: Past, Present, and Future," based on Psalm 103. This traditional and special college event was thoughtfully planned by Rev. Tracy Wenger Sadd and classmates to be an extraordinary service for the campus community.

Several graduating students from many different majors and backgrounds walked on stage to discuss the past four years of their life. Speakers described how the College, its environment, and its professors had changed them and made them a better person, thus in turn how they had changed and improved Elizabethtown. The ceremony also allotted time for two extravagant musical gifts which created nostalgic emotions.

The service ended with an experience similar to when the Class of 2007 stood in the Dell in 2003 for the First-Year Student Induction Ceremony. Everyone in the chapel lit candles, and then the Seniors stood and read a responsive litany which was adapted from the litany that now-graduates read in the Dell at the Induction in 2003. It pledged loyalty to God, light, truth, and service.

Following the ceremony, speakers, students, and professors alike enjoyed one final opportunity to reminisce with exceptional food on a cool evening by Lake Placida.

FINAL MOMENTS

Commencement

Elizabethtown College's 104th Commencement Ceremony, which represented the graduating class of 2007, proudly presented more than 400 students who completed the necessary requirements to receive a degree.

Fortunately the Saturday, May 19, 2007 service was held outdoors in the Dell on a beautiful spring day, even though the forecast originally called for intense precipitation and high winds.

Elizabethtown had offered 50 majors and nearly 70 concentrations; the list of programs allowed students to prepare for a broad spectrum of graduate programs and careers. Graduating individuals have contributed to this institution's prosperity and outstanding legacy. Also, numerous students from this year's class met the requirements to be inducted into one of Elizabethtown's honoraries.

This year's proceedings were lead by Thomas R. Leap and also Rev. Tracy Wenger Sadd. President Theodore E. Long and Interim Provost E. Fletcher McClellan conducted the ceremony, in addition to introducing the 2007 commencement speaker Derek C. Hathaway, Chairman and Chief Executive Offer of Harsco Corporation.

The caps, gowns and hoods worn in the ceremony were modified versions of the clothing worn in medieval times to distinguish clerical and academic groups from the laity.

✎ Metals were awarded to each of the 19 reunion members of the graduating class of 1957 from Elizabethtown College.

Ed Barket and Laura Bardol reflected on their final moments as seniors before receiving their diploma from the College.

E. Fletcher McClellan spoke of honorary degree recipient and commencement speaker Derek C. Hathaway; President Long listened during his 11th commencement.

A 2007 graduate posed with her sister and mother after the ceremony on that Saturday morning.

Students processed in from across campus to their seats in the colorful Dell.

"There is a good reason they call these ceremonies "commencement exercises."
Graduation is not the end; it's the beginning."
-Orin Hatch

"Graduation is only a concept. In real life every day you graduate. Graduation is a process that goes on until the last day of your life. If you can grasp that, you'll make a difference."
-Arie Pencovici

"It is indeed ironic that we spend our school days yearning to graduate and our remaining days waxing nostalgic about our school days."

The James B. Hoover Center was dedicated on September 14, 2006. The academic building for Business will be an asset to Elizabethtown's already strong business program, allowing students to gain the knowledge and experience needed to handle real-world businesses with integrity and competency. With the construction of the Frank M. Masters, Jr. Center for Science, Mathematics, and Engineering (SMEC) in the works, it was an important day for the college community to be able to recognize the completion of its newest academic building.

In April 2006, Master from Harrisburg, PA, contributed significantly to Elizabethtown with its latest construction endeavor. The new structure will include modern science lab and classroom space as well as the brand new Lyet biology wing, complete with common areas for student use. It will allow students to participate more frequently in research with faculty.

Above Frank M. Masters, along side President Long, donated a gift of $4 million towards the SMEC building.

First Week

Move-in, Freshman Walk & Campaign

The summer passed all too quickly, and before our newest Blue Jays knew, it was time to pack up their belongings and head off to their first year at E-town. Never fear though, by the time returning students arrived on that Sunday, the Class of 2010 was right at home after a few days of orientation.

They arrived early on August 24th, moved into their dorm rooms and finally met their roommates. The new students were officially welcomed into the campus community at the Induction, or "pinning" ceremony. Over the next few days, in between information sessions and peer group meetings, they enjoyed a root beer float luau, a hypnotist, and the election of their Student Senate Representatives.

With a ton of opportunities to join clubs and to meet new people, the first-year students were ready to begin.

The year was off to a great start; all students were slowly preparing for their fall semester classes at the College!

The parade traveled through E-town with a final march down Campus Avenue on Saturday morning. Students, parents, and alumni moved to the Midway Fair on Brinser Field where clubs, organizations and outside vendors sold T-shirts, glasses, scarves, and more! Multiple sporting events including a Cross Country meet, and Field Hockey and Women's Soccer games took place throughout the weekend. The Blue Jay "flew" onto the field at the start of the Men's Soccer game; during halftime the Homecoming King and Queen, Shawn Haley and Stephanie Petry, were presented. Later that evening attendees enjoyed the Big Shot: The Bill Joel Experience in Leffler Chapel. To cap off the weekend Phalanx held the annual alumni show on Sunday. was a fun-filled weekend!

Into the Streets

Day of Service and Learning

This year students from Elizabethtown "Splashed Into the Streets" on October 28th. This event attracted more than 600 students, alumni and faculty, all of whom worked on more than 55 projects in the surrounding areas. Their goal was to influence students to perform meaningful community service and hone their leadership skills, while at the same time challenging them to volunteer on a more regular basis.

Projects this year included an Activities Fair at Elizabethtown Area Middle School, which consisted of a cheerleading clinic, a drama workshop, and a basketball practice, among other events. Ed.org and Kappa Delta Pi helped teachers in their classrooms, while the Newman Club helped out at a Halloween Lock-In at St.

Peter's School in Elizabethtown.

Other clubs helped out the environment by raking leaves, mulching the local park, and gardening. Into the Streets was a huge success because it brought everyone out from the college to contribute, and make a difference in the community.

Arcadia

Fall Play Production

Arcadia, this year's fall play, was the winner of the 1995 New York Drama Critic's Circle Award for Best Play. Written by Academy Award winner Tom Stoppard, this unique play moves back and forth between 1809 and the present. It explores the nature of truth over time and how sex influences our lives.

The play closely examined the values and differences between the two time periods and ways that truth can be skewed after many years have elapsed.

In the past, young Thomasina Coverly and her tutor Septimus studied academic and romantic topics. In the present, two competing scholars look for connections between the Coverly family and Lord Byron who had visited the family at one point.

This was the first play in which Matthew Allard, Visiting Professor, had worked as the Technical Director. He designed and built the set, hung lighting, and selected the costumes for the production.

Thanksgiving Dinner

Students and faculty gather for a traditional meal

Each year the Elizabethtown College community celebrates Thanksgiving with a traditional dinner prepared by Dining Services. Due to the amount of students, several seating times were designated to allow for all full accommodations. Tables had to be reserved ahead of time; when students arrived they ate dinner with their friends while being served by the college's faculty, staff, administration, and alumni. Volunteers included President Long, Trustees, and even benefactors who proudly proffered the traditional style entrée. The meal included turkey with all of the trimmings, and a slice of pumpkin pie. In preparation for the dinner, Dining Services prepared over 165 whole turkeys, 190 pounds of cut corn, 110 pumpkin pies, as well as other items.

This tradition began nearly thirty years ago, and over the years has become one of the largest and most successful College gatherings. Students dressed up, and sat back while their mentors served them a classic meal.

One Acts

Student-directed, one act performances

LIGHTS, CAMERA, ACTION!

The Annual One Act Festival took place twice this year at Elizabethtown College. The plays in the fall were directed and performed by students. All of the segments were held in the Tempest "Black Box" Theatre in the Baugher Student Center. Conducted in front of an audience, the plays had portions that had been both funny and serious, and of course all acts were entertaining.

In the spring, the plays were held in the Tempest Theatre, but this time they were organized differently. Entitled "Caffe e Manoscritti," the plays, again written and performed by students, had been read in a "Coffee House" atmosphere. Refreshments were served while students crowded in to watch their fellow classmates exhibit their unique talents on stage.

And, once again Etown's artistic students pulled out all the stops to provide the campus with a dazzling display of dramatic and directorial talent. ...AND CUT

A Day with Youth; A Day of Remembrance

Elizabethtown hosted a day of fun and activities for the younger siblings of its students. This year the theme was based on "Flushed Away," the Dreamworks film about a mouse who accidentally flushed down the toilet and discovered a hidden metropolis.

Properly named "Flushed Away to E-tropolis," the day was filled with games, crafts and a themed dinner, including toilet bowl races!

Children from all over showed up on campus to take part in this unique event, in addition to having the opportunity to visit their older brothers and sisters at the college's campus!

Elizabethtown's first annual Martin Luther King, Jr. Day celebration was entitled "A Shared Destiny, A Day of Service." Students, faculty and staff honored the leader by a variety of activities. In the morning a ceremony was held in Leffler Chapel; later that morning audiences conducted community service projects at local schools. In the afternoon faculty members held a seminar to discuss the merits of cancelling classes on Martin Luther King, Jr.'s Day.

ETHON & Relay for Life

Right Stephen Sanchez and Kimberly Wienches busted some moves during an ETHON Jam Session.

Inspired by Penn State's THON, Elizabethtown's 24-hour dance marathon made its debut as "ETHON." The event which encompassed a full 24 hours (from 7 p.m. Friday to 7 p.m. Saturday) benefited The Four Diamonds Fund. The fund raises money for families who have children with cancer, and aids them in paying for medical expenses, as well as everyday amenities such as supplies. The goal was to raise $2,000 "for the kids," but Circle K was thrilled to announce that the event brought in over $7,000 for the first ever event!

Elizabethtown's first Relay for Life was sponsored by newly formed chapter of Colleges Against Cancer. More than twenty teams comprised of members of the college participated in the 12-hour walk, which took place on the track. The first lap was reserved for cancer survivors; for the rest of the time each team was required to have at least one person on the track at all times. Following the relay, a luminaria ceremony was held to honor survivors and also those who had lost their lives to the disease.

Here Come the Men in Black...

On Friday, March 16th, seven of the college's finest gentlemen took the stage to compete for the chance to wear Mr. E-town's coveted crown. Complete with a talent section in which each contestant performed an original dance number as well as a question and answer section; Mr. E-town 2007 was by in large a huge success. The event was emceed by both Sara DiCecco and last year's King, Timothy Kelchner. Effler Chapel was packed with campus members eager to cheer on their favorite dormitory representative.

The contestants included: Mr. Quads, Matthew Sembach; Mr. Brinser, Bo Humphries; Mr. Royer, Jacob Keeler; Mr. Founders, Eric Kopp; Mr. Apartments, Ryan White; Mr. Ober, Todd Fidler, and Mr. Off-Campus, Michael Bauer.

Spirits were high as the crowd awaited the judges' final votes at the end of the competition. Finally the winners were announced: the second runner up was Matthew Sembach, and the first runner up, Todd Fidler. After much anticipation, Mr. Royer, Jacob Keeler, walked away with the crown!

Junior & Senior Formal

On March 24, 2007, Juniors, Seniors and their dates hit the red carpet of the dance floor for the annual Junior/Senior formal. The event was held at the newly renovated Sheraton Hotel in Harrisburg.

The Class of 2008 Student Senate worked hard all year to present a night of sophistication, class and style for the upperclassmen. The theme, "007 Forever," was highly evident with the constant black and blue motif tuxedo-style invitations and the "secret service" staff. There was even a well lit sculpture that read "007 Forever" to add to the elegance.

A cocktail hour was followed by a three course dinner which included salad, three entrée options and dessert. After dinner, students and their dates danced late into the night to music provided by the DJ. Hotel rooms were made available to those who wished to stay the evening. All in all, the majority of guests took advantage of the Sheraton's newly renovated accommodation on this special celebratory night.

Spring Play Production

In the Spring of 2007 the theatre department presented "Hair," a musical whose controversial nature had once elicited lawsuits. When it first opened in 1967 cast members had to fight for their right to perform. Broadway production ran for 1,873 performances. Several of the songs from its score became top 40 hits, and a successful movie version was released in 1979. "Hair" was exactly what was needed in an era where political values were being formed, and thinking was expanding in regard to sexuality and drug use. "Hair" took the issues that were prevalent in the sixties and shaped them into a format that everyone in society during that generation could appreciate.

The musical followed "The Tribe", a group of politically active friends who were "Hippies of the Age of Aquarius" fighting against conscription to the Vietnam War. They lived bohemian lives in an apartment in New York City where the group arrived at crossroads causing immense controversy.

A Medieval Celebration

It might be 2007, but for this year's "Thank God It's Spring" event, Elizabethtown partied like it was 1407! That's right, there was a "medieval" theme for TGIS, and it featured a vast selection of activities and entertainment spread among Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

A few of the many unique medieval style events included entertainment by the Psychic Madman Jim Karol, a medieval feast, a peasant's pizza party, and several showings of A Knight's Tale.

An outing even presented a medieval showcase featuring jousting and sword fights which took place in Brinser Field. Later in the evening Recycled Percussion was back by popular demand; free hot dogs were obtainable after the concert. On Saturday afternoon

Medieval Festival was held in Brinser Field with inflatables, games and a wide variety of food.

At the closing of TGIS, students dressed in their fifteenth century attire and danced the "knight" away at a Knights and Ladies dance. Students viewed this as one of the best weekends on campus.

Campus Media

ECTV is a 24-hour leased cable station owned and operated by the Department of Communications. The television station serves approximately 25,000 viewers in Elizabethtown and the surrounding communities. Student staff members produce and direct original in-studio productions as well as gain experience with remote videography.

The Etownian, the college's newspaper, obtains and presents timely information to the college community in a professional and ethical manner. The members of this club strive to cover stories and issues that are relevant to college students, faculty, and staff. The Etownian also encourages hearing the voice of Elizabethtown by extending an invitation of reader feedback.

Fine Print is Elizabethtown's annual journal of literary art featuring poems, short stories, short plays, essays, and visual art submitted by members of the campus. Fine Print is usually printed in the late spring semester, accompanied by a reading of its authors and other interested members. The mission is to promote creative expression at Elizabethtown College by producing an annual publication showcasing talented, diverse artists and composers.

WWEC-FM is the College's student managed and operated radio station. It too, like ECTV, is affiliated with the Department of Communications, and serves the College and local communities by providing music, news, weather, sports, traffic and special programs. The station broadcasts from 7 a.m. to midnight on weekdays and 8 a.m. to midnight on weekends.

Mad Cow

Mad Cow hones comedy improvisation skills through regular rehearsals, attendance at workshops and other similar style productions. The group often performs shows on and off campus each semester. Mad Cow benefits its members with an opportunity to develop skills in public performance, quick thinking, and enhances interpersonal relationships. It also offers low-cost entertainment, different from others on campus.

Melica is Elizabethtown's all female a capella group dedicated to service in the field of vocal music for the community. The members involved pledge to grow musically, share each other's love for singing and represent the college on an international level by taking the Elizabethtown College name outside of the community as well. Through this, as a means to reach out to the public, the group also increases their personal enjoyment, and pride themselves in the growth year after year.

Phalanx is Elizabethtown's premier mens' a cappella group. It is a diverse group of gentlemen with a wide range of interests that has gathered to do one thing they all love: to sing. Their repertoire has included styles from oldies to pop-rock. In the last decade Phalanx has grown and evolved, changing in size and composition with the times.

Sock and Buskin helps nurture and educate students for life-long participation in and support of the arts. The group will provide opportunities for non-major as well as Theatre major and minor students to participate in the discipline. Moreover, they hold performances and exhibitions of high quality to the College and the public that engage and challenge male and female participants.

Political Affairs

The purpose of Elizabethtown College Democrats is to bring together and promote the shared beliefs of the Democratic Party and its members. College Democrats does this by sharing Democratic and Liberal beliefs with students, holding events to promote, sharing ideas and causes, and helping elect Democratic candidates.

The College Republicans promote conservative solutions to the issues that confront our times. The thought of political involvement makes some uneasy, but people believe our nation is harmed when corruption goes unresolved due to a lazy electorate that thinks "my vote doesn't matter." Therefore, the College Republicans resolve to add the contributions of ideas and efforts to the political affairs of this university, the community, the state, and the nation.

Mock Trial competes in regional and invitational competitions as sponsored by the American Mock Trial Association. Students are given the legal experience of trying a case in court, as well as gaining substantial knowledge of legal terms and processes.

The Elizabethtown College Student Senate is the governing assembly for the students of Elizabethtown College. The Student Senate represents the voice of students to college Faculty, Staff, Administration, student groups, and the surrounding communities. K-9 Club

The K-9 Club is dedicated to the awareness that canines are loving, loyal, and intelligent animals that deserve a good home with a family willing to return the affection. The group raises money for the organization and useful causes determined by the club members. It also provides an outlet for canine lovers to converse about their beloved pets and their future career plans.

The International Club gives the campus a chance to interact with others who are interested in learning more about different cultures and countries. The group is open to everyone. Community members from both the United States and other countries are encouraged to intermingle in a social environment to experience the unique opportunities that exist in the ever-changing society.

Noir, established in November 2005, is the Black Student Organization of Elizabethtown College. The organization is designed to address the concerns and needs of the Black student population of the campus. The members also contribute as a service organization providing programming and education on Black history and culture from past generations to the current.

The Elizabethtown Triathlon Team, which includes a combination of swimming, cycling and running, is about going faster, longer and harder. Individuals push themselves more than ever thought possible, while "tri-ing" new things and meeting great people at the same time. The team's goal is to bring the sport of a triathlon to Central Pennsylvania and E-town.

“Whatever you can do, or dream you can, begin it.

Boldness has genius, power and magic in it.”

—Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

In late October, 2006 we again ran one of our best races of the season at the MAC Championships hosted by DeSales University, to nudge out Messiah College, and to extent our steak to eight straight conference titles!

Coach Chris Straub

Team Members (A-Z): B. Bear, D. Bresnahan, D. Cohen, S. Derkacz, P. Donovan, A. Dossin, T. Evensen, D. Graybeal, M. Lund, J. Matula, E. Metz, J. Munnely, G. Nicholas, D. Rulander, J. Slusser, R. St. Clair, J. Theobald, and E. Wojciechowski

MEN'S XC

The running Blue Jays experienced a season full of accomplishment. All the highlights of the 2006 fall season earned the team eleventh place in national rankings. The U.S. Track & Field and Cross Country Coaches' Association deliberated this title after the men defeated Messiah and Dickinson at the Capital City Classic. Later in the season, the team placed first among Division II teams and fourth overall at the James Madison University Invitational. Individual achievements of the 2006 season include senior Patrick Donovan and sophomore Brandon Bear

Donovan, also, was the seventh Blue Jay runner to place in the top 100 at the NCAA Division III Championship meet. All-American Team honors went to Bear and senior Jason Theobald. This designation is given to students whose cumulative GPA exceeds a 3.49 and who place in the top 25% of the field at the Mideast Regional Championships. The summit of the men's cross country team's season came in October at DeSales University. The men won their eighth consecutive Middle Atlantic Conference Championship race. This victory secured E-town's longest-running dynasty.

The Lady Jay's training paid off in the 2006 season. A member of the top thirty-five nationally ranked teams, by the U.S. Track & Field and Cross Country Coaches' Association (USTFCCCA), the team began with Junior Erin Fisher's second place finish at the Capital City Classic. Following this, the team nabbed the wining title at the DeSales Invitational. Success stories wrapped up the season. At the Middle Atlantic Conference Championships, E-town placed second and Fisher became the first Blue Jay MAC Individual Champion. This qualified her to compete in the NCAA Division

III Championships. Fisher also made the All-Mideast Region team along with sophomore Tiffany Kulp who also received All-Mideast Region honors. Three achievements ushered in the season's pinnacle. Senior Tara Fagan earned the 2006 Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Corporation Scholar-Athlete. The Lady Jays were named an All-Academic Team by USTFCCCA. The same association awarded five runners with All-American honors. This award recognizes athletes whose GPA is 3.5 or greater and who place in the top 25% of the field at the Mid-east Regional Championships.

At Regionals not only did we defeat Messiah by 111 points, but ran well enough to qualify for the National Championship as an at-large team. 2006 marked the second time in three years that the team competed at nationals!

Coach Mike Dager

With a bid to Nationals we were ready to dance. One more shot, one more time around. We finished with pride making it to the Sweet Sixteen Round in the NCAA tournament. It was a season of dreams, wins, losses, sweat, and tears - it was our time to shine - it was priceless.

FIELD HOCKEY

It was quite a year for the Elizabethtown College Field Hockey team. The Blue Jays advanced to the NCAA tournament for the first time since 1988, and picked up their first victory in the NCAA tournament since the 1987 season. The team finished the season with a 16-6 overall record, and a 5-2 mark in the Commonwealth Conference. Led by head coach Sharon Sweger, Elizabethtown was ranked as high as 11th in the country in 2006. On September 27th the team pulled off a major upset by knocking off arch rival Messiah in overtime by a score of 2-1. Messiah was ranked #1 in the nation at the time of the game. Four members of the Elizabethtown College field hockey team were named to the All-Commonwealth Conference teams for the 2006 season. Senior midfielder Laura Rinck earned a place on the First Team, and sophomore forward Megan Angstadt, senior defender Jenna Mastro-marino and senior midfielder Brandy Spriggle earned spots on the Second Team. Head coach Sharon Sweger was also named the Commonwealth Conference Coach of the Year.

GOLF

Before the season even began, the Elizabethtown Golf team was ranked 42nd in Golf Digest's "Academics First" list for men. This list is compiled to show those colleges and universities who have athletes who are excellent students first and golfers second. The Blue Jays had a tough season, but they never gave up. The team opened their season at the Fall Blue Jay Classic held at the Hershey Country Club East Course where they finished 12th. Senior captain Bob Pyrz shot his best round with a score of 73. A month later, Pyrz set a new E-town golf record with a total score of 69 at the Franklin & Marshall Fall Invitational. Bob beat the old record by one stroke. Overall, the team placed 4th with the help of two first-years, Kurt Amen and John Krajsa. By the time the spring season came around, the team was singing a different tune. The Jays placed 3rd at the Lebanon Valley Spring Tournament and 6th two days later at the Moravian College Spring Tournament. The team then went onto the Commonwealth Conference Championships held at Shawnee-on-Delaware, PA. The team placed 7th to finish out their 2007 season.

MEN'S SOCCER

The Men's Soccer team was brought together early on in their season with a visit to the training grounds of the Columbus crew on their way to Illinois for their opening tournament. There, they found the inspiration to work hard toward a great season. The team started off on the right track after a dramatic first home game win against Franklin & Marshall for "The Boot" with a score of 2-1. In the Commonwealth Conference Semifinals, E-town shined. They defeated nationally number one-ranked Messiah College, 1-0, giving the Falcons their only loss of the season. This game was also memorable because it was

Coach Skip Roderick's 400th career victory. Elizabethtown continued on to their second Commonwealth Conference title. Defeating Susquehanna University gave the men's team a bid in the NCAA Division III tournament. E-town faced Hobart College in the first round of the tournament. The game went into two overtimes with a score of 0-0 and forced a penalty kick shootout where Hobart out shot Elizabethtown 5-3. Michael Terry and Wes Bunting were named to the All-Commonwealth Conference First Team while Brennan Reichenbach, Rick Winstanley and A.J. Fleisher were named to the Second Team.

WOMAN'S SOCCER

From the very beginning, the Women's soccer team had high expectations for their upcoming season. They knew it was going to take hard work and team cohesiveness to obtain their three main goals: beat their number one rival Messiah, become MAC Champs, and make it to the NCAA playoffs. The women's new motto for their team "hold the rope" began during the start of the season. They were each given a piece of rope to tie to their soccer bags to remind them that if one piece of the rope began to fray off that it was going to be a lot easier for other teams to break the rope and the team as a whole. Their most memorable moment of the season was beating Messiah 1-0 on Messiah's home field. The fans were amazing and the girls left everything they had on the field and knew this is what they had been working for all season. Not only did the Women's soccer team accomplish all of their top three goals, but they even made it to the Sweet 16 in the NCAA playoffs. And their very own head coach, Barry Dohner, was named the Mid-Atlantic Region Coach of the Year for NCAA Division III.

WOMEN'S TENNIS

The Elizabethtown Women's tennis team opened up the 2006 season with a strong 8-1 win over Commonwealth Conference rival Susquehanna University. A few matches later, E-town bested Juniata College 8-1. With this match, senior Heather Lander won her 100th career match combined between singles and doubles. Lander is only the second Blue Jay to accomplish this goal. At the Commonwealth Conference team championship tournament held at Elizabethtown College in October, the Blue Jays made it to the championship match where they competed against Moravian College. After battling for almost five hours, the Blue Jays and the Greyhounds were in a 4-4 draw when darkness fell. The match finally was completed over a week later. The Blue Jays fell to Moravian to become Commonwealth Conference runner-up. E-town's final match was on the road at the University of Mary Washington where the Blue Jays fell to the nationally number 10 ranked team, 9-0. Elizabethtown had three tennis players named to the All-Commonwealth Conference teams; Stacy Shapiro made the First Team and Heather Lander and Emily Swarr made the Second Team. Furthermore, Head coach Matt Helsel was named the conference's Coach of the Year.

VOLLEYBALL

The Elizabethtown College Volleyball team posted an impressive 26-7 overall record, and 6-1 mark in the Commonwealth Conference in 2006. The Blue Jays advanced to the conference championship game for the first time since the 1995 season. Although the team lost to eventual national champion Juniata in the game, the Blue Jays had an extraordinary season. Season highlights include the squad defeating Commonwealth Conference rival Lebanon Valley for the first time since 1998, and going undefeated during their Fall Break trip to St. Thomas, U.S. Virgin Islands. Elizabethtown qualified for the conference playoffs for the third season in a row. Junior middle hitter Kelly Downs was named to the ESPN The Magazine Academic All-American Second Team; becoming the first Elizabethtown College volleyball player ever to become an Academic All-American. In addition to her Academic All-American honor, Downs was also named to the First Team of the All-Commonwealth Conference Team. Junior outside hitter Ashley Whitmarsh was chosen for Second Team. Head Coach Randall Kreider, in his fifth year at Elizabethtown, was voted the conference's Coach of the Year for the first time.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

Even though their record of 9-15 was the lowest overall win total since the 1981-1982 season and they missed the conference play-offs for the first time since the 1994-1995 season, the 2006-2007 season was not all bad for the Elizabethtown College Men's Basketball team. Led by seniors Luke Ledyard, Brian Goodwin, Kris Kieres, Greg Brizek, and Rob Fusaro, the Blue Jays were a scrappy bunch who played their hearts out every time they stepped onto the court. Team chemistry and togetherness were also essential components of the 2006-2007 season. The team was also able to pull off many impressive victories throughout the season. One of the highlights was an 87-73 win over Rutgers-Newark on the first day of the Catholic University of America Classic. Rutgers-Newark had just one loss coming into the game, which was tightly contested. The February 3rd come-from-behind victory over conference rival Lebanon Valley was another high point in the season. Playing in front of a large and enthusiastic crowd, the Blue Jays stormed back from a halftime deficit and knocked off Lebanon Valley 67-62. After an up and down season, the Blue Jays are looking forward to getting back among the Commonwealth Conference elite next season.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

It was a bittersweet season for the Women's Basketball team at Elizabethtown College. With nearly half of the team being first-year students, this team was quite young. The season started off with wins over Neumann and Rowan and a setback against Immaculata. But the Lady Jays bounced back on the road against Lycoming and a close victory over Susquehanna at home. The E-town women achieved a remarkable feat during the season where they became the first NCAA Division III women's basketball program ever to earn 900 all-time victories with a 76-56 home win over Trinity College (CT). This accomplishment was overshadowed by the four game losing streak that followed. In a victorious game against Widener, junior Audrey Hitz led the Blue Jays in rebounds with 19, the highest single-game total by a Blue Jay since 1994. The women's team ended the season with a 13-11 record. Junior Erin Walton was named to the All-Commonwealth Conference First Team and the D3hoops.com All-Middle Atlantic Region Second Team. The Lady Jays promise to be the team to beat next season as they continue to grow.

MEN'S SWIMMING

The Elizabethtown Men's Swimming team had their ups and downs during their 2006-2007 season. In their home opener, the Jays fell to Dickinson College. Four days later, the team lost to York College. Although the team lost as a whole, there were a few individual victories for E-town. Sophomore Christopher Miller broke the school record for the men's 1000 freestyle in 10:35.61, nearly 15 seconds faster than the previous record. And first-year Matt Drob won the mens 50 yard freestyle in 22.97 seconds. The team left for winter break and returned ready to defeat their opponents.

The Blue Jays opened 2007 with a victory over Middle Atlantic Conference rival Drew University, 103-77. The men's team attended the 2007 Middle Atlantic Conference Championships at the Wilkes-Barre, PA Catholic Youth Center in February. Christopher Miller became the Elizabethtown men's team's first MAC Champion since 2003 with a final time of 4:47.49 in the men's 500 freestyle. The men's medley relay, comprised of Miller, first-year Tim Donahue, junior Darren DiObilda, and first-year Matthew Drob, brought home silver with a time of 3:37.26.

WOMEN'S SWIMMING

The 2006-2007 Elizabethtown College Women's Swim team achieved success on many levels this season. With the addition of strong first-year swimmers, the team had hopes of being back in the championship race. Although they finished their regular season with a losing record of 4-10, they went to the three day Middle Atlantic Conference Championships in February and brought home eight medals, three second team All-MAC performances and finished sixth out of eleven times. But their greatest success this season can not be found on the books, it's the bond they formed with each other. Senior captain, Keeley Trumbo said, "One thing I consider special about this team is that we are a family. It's difficult to mention specific people and their accomplishments because this team doesn't operate that way." Keeley added, "It is an unbelievable feeling to be standing behind a block, nervous beyond words, and see at the other end of the pool a sea of blue t-shirts from Elizabethtown College screaming and cheering your name. That is a team. And that is what the Etown women's swimming is all about."

E-town swimming was finally a force to reckon with this year! Being on a pool deck with hundreds of screaming fans is quite a rush, and it was great to share all those moments with such wonderful girls as my teammates.

WRESTLING

The Elizabethtown College Wrestling team started off their 2006-2007 season at the Washington & Jefferson open where four first-year students placed in their respective weight category; Eric Rhoads at 133 pounds, Bud Crosswell at 149 pounds, Brett Epps at 174 pounds, and Tim Katzaman at heavyweight. These first-years, in addition to an unprecedented 14 others, helped the Blue Jays win their home opener against John Hopkins University. A few weeks later, E-town took down rival Messiah College 28-12 with the help of junior Peter Achilles who pinned his opponent in 3:39. Then at 184 pounds, Etown first-year

Josh Herbert pinned his Falcon opponent in 5:45. Less than a week later, Elizabethtown defeated Gettysburg in a home match 32-18. Elizabethtown's Brett Epps needed only 19 seconds to pin his opponent at 174 pounds and Josh Herbert followed with another pin for E-town at 184 pounds, taking only 4:41. The team met Lycoming College the first week of February and handed them a loss. The men won with a score of 19-16. The win over Lycoming gave the team its highest dual match win total since the 1999-00 season. The team was also ranked sixth in the nation in grade point average this season.

BASEBALL

The Elizabethtown College Baseball team entered the 2007 season with very high expectations. After winning the Commonwealth Conference and advancing to the NCAA tournament in 2006, the 2007 Blue Jays had a tough act to follow. With new head coach Cliff Smith leading the way, the team returned 17 players from the championship squad and did not disappoint in 2007. The Blue Jays advanced to the conference tournament for the ninth consecutive year, and put themselves in great position to repeat as conference champions. The baseball team became the first Elizabethtown College athletic team to reach the 1,000 all-time victory plateau with a come from behind victory over Albright on March 31st. Another season highlight occurred on April 14th when Sam Heaps tossed a no-hitter in an 11-0 win against conference rival Juniata. For his accomplishment, Heaps was named Commonwealth Conference Pitcher of the Week. Playing in beautiful Kevin Scott Boyd Stadium, the Blue Jays have established themselves as a powerhouse in the Commonwealth Conference, and the program will continue to be one of the top in the region.

The Elizabethtown College baseball team was led by a strong and successful senior class. Senior captains Dean Whetham, Tyler Hoffman, Ryan White, and Mike Donahue led a team dedicated to hard work, commitment and class. This senior class made 3 playoff appearances in their first 3 years and also won the 2006 Commonwealth Conference championship.

Coach Cliff Smith

The year was a fun filled rollercoaster ride with triumphant victories and bitter losses. Although we are a fairly young team, we definitely put ourselves out there as a force to be reckoned with.

SOFTBALL

The returning players from the 2006 Softball squad worked hard to ensure that the 2007 season would not be a disappointment. The Blue Jays got off to a strong start on their Spring Break trip to Fort Myers, Florida, and the momentum carried over once the team returned home and began its Commonwealth Conference schedule. The softball team matched its win total from the previous season on March 31st with a 3-0 win over Lebanon Valley, and surpassed the 2006 mark on April 2nd after blowing out York by a score of 9-0. The Blue Jays showed heart and determination while possessing tremendous team chemistry in 2007. A good mix of talented freshman and experienced upperclassmen made for a much improved team. Senior centerfielder Kelli Thon had another stellar year. She made her case to be named to the All-Commonwealth Conference Team for the fourth consecutive year. Junior pitcher Alex Lee was solid on the rubber, consistently giving the team a chance to win. After a successful 2007 season, the Blue Jay softball program is on the rise, and ready to take the Commonwealth Conference by storm.

MEN'S LACROSSE

With nearly half the team being first-year students, many people would say the 2006-2007 Elizabethtown Men's Lacrosse team was in a rebuilding year. But the team was coming off of their third consecutive appearance at the Middle Atlantic Conference Semi-finals in the 2006 season and wanted to stay on top. The Blue Jays opened their season with a big win over Saint Vincent College at home, 13-8. E-town out-shot the Bearcats 38-28 and held a 38-28 advantage in ground balls. Elizabethtown fell to nationally ranked Washington (MD) in their first away game, 16-2. The men's team did not let this loss keep them down. E-town responded with a five game winning streak besting Misericordia, Widener, Drew, King's (PA), and Immaculata. An away match against Messiah took the best of the team where they fell 5-11. The men's team qualified for the MAC playoffs as the #2 seed. In the Semi-finals, Widener slipped by the Blue Jays in a 5-9 loss. Seniors Frankie Puzangara and Frank Cacia and junior Gary Senese were named to the All-MAC First Team, while junior Eric Peifer and first-year Aaron Weber earned places on the All-MAC Second Team. Puzangara was also named the MAC Player of the Year for the second year in a row.

“The women's lacrosse team had a record-breaking season. We shattered the school's wins record, set numerous individual marks, and managed to clinch the top seed in 2007's MAC playoffs after being the sixth and final seed in the tournament during 2006. This season won't soon be forgotten!

WOMEN'S LACROSSE

The young group of ladies, with only one senior, that is the Elizabethtown Women's Lacrosse team posted the best season in the teams' six year history. They went undefeated in their conference for the first time with a record of 10-0, which earned them the top seed going into the post season topping teams such as Messiah, Lycoming, Scranton, and King's. The team finished its season with a 13-4 record overall, losing 10-11 in overtime against FDU-Florham dividual honors in the MAC conference as a result of there near perfect season; sophomore Katie Foley was named MAC Player of the Year and first-year Katie Caprinolo was named MAC Rookie of the Year. Foley along with sophomores Dana Simmons and Jenn Hawkins were all named to the All-MAC First Team. Caprinolo along with first-year Megan Byrnes, and first-year Stephanie Kreis earned places on the All-MAC Second Team. Also, their sophomore goalie, Jenn Hawkins received Defender/Goalkeeper of the Week three consecutive weeks in a row.

MEN'S TENNIS

The Elizabethtown Men's Tennis program was another which saw an increase of first-year students this season. The young Blue Jay team had its difficulties this season. They started off the season at the Blue Jay Invitational held at Elizabethtown College in late October 2006. First-year Brok Walker won the singles B Flight bracket for the Blue Jays. E-town started their official season in March 2007 with an away loss to Baldwin-Wallace College in Hilton Head, S.C. The Blue Jays continued with a four match losing streak in Hilton Head, but ended their stay with a big win over Eastern University, 8-1. This win gave the Blue Jays a little momentum for their return to the Keystone state. E-town bested Goucher, LaSalle, and Moravian, but could not top the Messiah Falcons. This loss was the first since Hilton Head and was just another stop on their roller coaster of a season. Elizabethtown made it to the Commonwealth Conference Playoffs where they were seeded second in the four team bracket. E-town beat Juniata in the semi-finals but fell to Messiah in the title match. First-year student Maarten Albers was named to the All-Conference First Team, while first-year students Ryan Knarr and Brok Walker earned spots on the Second Team.

There aren't many teams that can say they played for a chance to win their Conference Championship. We came up one match short, losing to Messiah in the finals, but I am very proud of the way the team has fought hard all year long. We have certainly come a long way from our first match down in Hilton Head.

Brok Walker, First-year

E-town won their 5th consecutive indoor title. The men's team is only losing 4 athletes to graduation and looks to repeat next year. Further, Kevin Clark won Indoor Nationals in the pole-vault-he is a junior and is going to continue his illustrious career.

MEN'S TRACK & FIELD

One word can summarize the 2006-2007 season for Elizabethtown's Men's Track and Field team: victorious. The Blue Jays started off with an indoor season any athlete would be proud of. In January, junior Kevin Clark competed at the National Pole Vault Summit in Reno, Nevada and shattered a record he previously set. Clark cleared 16'10-3/4" in the pole vault, six inches higher than his outdoor record. Junior Bryan Marison broke a six year-old record after he heaved a shot put 37'11-1/2" at the East Stroudsburg Invitational in February. With the help of the rest of the men's team, the Blue Jays captured their fifth consecutive Middle Atlantic Conference Indoor Championship. The team competed at the NCAA Division III Championships and placed 13th. Kevin Clark won the pole vault competition and became the first Blue Jay national champion in any sport since 1982. This series of events set the team up for a fantastic outdoor season. The spring season saw true leaders shine. Clark placed 15th in the decathlon at the NCAA Division III Championships in May. Meanwhile, senior Patrick Donovan placed 13th in the 1500m and junior Drew Graybeal finished 6th in the 800m run and earned All-American Honors for the second time in his career.

WOMEN'S TRACK & FIELD

The Elizabethtown Women's Track & Field team came off a very strong season in 2006, taking the Indoor Middle Atlantic Conference Championship and coming in second in the Outdoor MAC championships. But with only about 25 total team members due to a small recruiting class and members not returning for the 2007 season, the team had their work cut out for them from the beginning. On top of their small numbers, the combination of the death of teammate Katelyn John in late October and the loss of senior captain and star sprinter, Lori Havrilak to a medical issue, had coaches less than hopeful of the team finishing in the top five in the conference. But the girls were not willing to go down without a fight. They pulled together, dedicated their season to Katelyn and ended up coming in 4th at Indoor MAC's and 3rd at Outdoor MAC's. The team took home 14 medals between the two championship meets and set six Elizabethtown College program records throughout the season. Junior Erin Fisher qualified for the NCAA Division III Track & Field Championships held at UW-Oshkosh. Fisher was seeded 14th in the 18 runner field for the 10,000 meter. She finished 16th in the nation with a running time of 37:29.92, just over 45 seconds more than her personal-best.

KRISTIN VITT

Congratulations, Kristin!

As you graduate, we are reminded of all of the way that you have brightened our lives and the lives of those around you. Whether you were a little girl or a college student, our hearts swelled with pride each time we watched you act in a play, sing in concert, or dance in a recital. You have worked hard to fulfill your dream of becoming a teacher. The friends and memories that you made at E-town will last a lifetime. You have grown into a competent, beautiful young woman. A bright future is ahead of you and we love you with all of our hearts.

JODI GLOVER

Congratulations, Jodi! We are so proud and excited to share in all of your successes at Elizabethtown. The challenging academics, fulfilling service, and lifelong friendships that you have experienced here have certainly prepared you well for a rewarding future. Our continued love and support will follow you on whatever path you choose.

Love, Mom, Dad, Julie and Tyler

MATTHEW WITKOVSKY

Matthew David,
We are so very proud of the wonderful young man you have become and are still becoming. As you continue on life's journey, know that we will always be there for you no matter what may come, offering these words of faith and encouragement:

Those who wait upon the Lord will renew their strength.
They will soar on wings like eagles;
they will run and not grow weary,
they will walk and not be faint.

"Life is good!"
We love you very much,
Mom and Dad-XO

VICTORIA CIAFREI

Congratulations! We are so very proud of how well you have done in college, and what an intelligent, kind, thoughtful, and beautiful woman you have become. Your future is so bright, and you have so much to look forward to. We hope you take your education and experiences from E-town and use them to create a career and future for yourself that makes you very happy. XO!

Love, Mom, Dad and Amy

AMANDA COLLINGE

Mandy, We are so very proud of all you have accomplished and know that the knowledge and experiences you have gained will give you the tools you need to reach your goals and give you a very bright future!

Love, Mom, Dad and Ty

REBEKAH SLAGEL

Dear Rebekah, You are a special blessing from the Lord. As this part of the journey ends and a new one begins, may you "be joyful always, pray continually, give thanks in all circumstances for this is God's will for you in Christ Jesus." (I Thessalonians 5:16-18) Congratulations! I love you, Mom

VALERIE REED

Dear Valerie,

With tremendous joy we celebrate with you this remarkable accomplishment. We are so very proud! You've exceeded our expectation, achieved incredible goals, and competed adventures and travels we've known only in our dreams. And we know you will achieve even greater accomplishments and attain further honors in the year and years ahead. Always remember you are ever in our thoughts and prayers, and that you've been blessed to be a blessing.

Love, Mom, Dad and Jen

DANIEL MALLINSON

Daniel, Wow!

What an amazing life you've lived. You survived a major loss in your young life which could have been debilitating but, instead, increased your focus and determination. I feel so honored to be your Mom and to have shared your life so far. Congratulations...and now on to the next stage of your life. May you always remember who to turn to for strength and guidance. He will never fail you.

Love always,
Mom

JOHANNA GERIG

"Still round the corner there may wait, a new road or a secret gate." -J.R.R. Tolkien. To Johanna, with pride and joy in all you have accomplished! Love and best wishes as you follow your dreams...

EMILY SMITH

Emily,

Always on the go! We're behind you 150%!

Love forever, Patrick & Mom

KAREY ESCHENBRENNER

It seems like only yesterday when we would drop you off at school and the tears would begin to flow. You would cry and hold on, afraid to be away from us. Now look at you! You have grown into an amazing young woman about to begin a new adventure. We couldn't be more proud of you, and all that you have accomplished. We are sure you will be successful in all that you do.

Love, Mom and Dad

The 2007 Conestogan Yearbook, volume 85, was produced by a select few of Elizabethtown College students. Taylor Publishing in Dallas, Texas printed the publication, which was overseen by plant account executive Robert Porter. Elizabethtown College's local representative, Ed Patrick, Jr. offered assistance in production stages, financial matters, and contributed ample advice. Also from Taylor Publishing, Creative Artist Seana Litt aided in the hands-on aspects of the book. Individual student portraits, in addition to a vast majority of candid, were taken by DaVor Photography, Inc., a division of Herff Jones Photography, which was represented by account executive Mark Huff. One high-end Canon EOS Rebel dSLR was used for staff photography as well as two 5.1 megapixel Nikon cameras; all photographs were printed in the CMYK format. This year's cover was designed by Stephen Williams from The Cover Artist with some alterations from the Conestogan's staff. The 2007 edition was produced using five Dell Optiplex machines running Microsoft Windows XP and Adobe's Creative Suite 2. In the Creative Suite, InDesign and Photoshop were used for layout design and image manipulation, respectively. Fonts that were applied throughout the book included, but were not limited to: Birch, EricT, Garamond, RinnaT and Times.
